Portfolio Manager Commentary

The Kenyan economy is estimated to have contracted by 0.3% in 2020 compare to the restated 5% in 2019 due to the lockdown's following the discovery of first COVID case in March 2020. Economic growth globally and in Kenya is expected to rebound strongly in 2021 mainly because of base effects and recovery in some sector as vaccine coverage increases. National treasury and IMF projects the economy will grow by 6.2% and 7.6% respectively in 2021.

The average inflation rate for September increased to 6.91%, compared to 6.57% in August. Worst offender was fuel inflation which increased 1.17% mainly due to the increase in prices of petrol and diesel that went up 5.91% and 7.30% as government stopped subsidizing pump prices. Food inflation was muted as prices of staple, maize flour, decreased during the month.

Equity market softened on the tail end of the month wiping out gains made in August as the ALSI and NSE 25 lost 2.04% and 2.24% respectively, whereas NSE 20 returned marginal 0.2% during the month. Softening in the equity markets were as a result of foreign investor taking profit on large cap stocks on the back of a rally after the release of strong earning in banking sectors. Equity, KCB, EABL and Safaricom lost 4.69%, 3.61%, 2.84% and 1.17% respectively in the month.

Subscription rates remained low during the month and quarter as subscription rate come in at 87.8% down from 115.3% recorded in second quarter as investors shifted their interest to the higher yield earning bond markets. Liquidity in the markets is waning despite the injection from government payments. The average yields for the 364- day, 182-day and 91-day papers marginally increased to 7.95%, 7.28% and 6.89%, from 7.49%, 7.19% and 6.7%, respectively, recorded in August.
